My involvement in any case is as a disinterested party. I am an advocate for no person or position. I am an advocate for the physical evidence, to speak for the evidence that cannot speak for itself *. I reserve the right to refuse any case or to cease work on any case should the contracting parties try to influence me or the results of my work.

With all cases, you will want to see what property was collected. Quite often only a select few items of what is collected is ever examined. Selective examination can bias results and reports to reach a target conclusion. I will do my best to show you how the physical evidence and the examinations of physical evidence can best support your position, and conversely, where it may hinder. While having had some experience in just about every area of forensic science my skills are primarily forensic microscopy, toolmark comparison, firearm examination, and shooting scene reconstruction.

Most work I am able to get to immediately upon receipt of the test materials and only rarely do I have the evidence more than a few days. If I cannot get to your case immediately I will notify you and schedule an agreeable time for both of us or assist you in finding other resources. Whether or not you have examinations or additional examinations done, you should at least have notes and reports reviewed by an independent forensic expert.

Remember, the results of examination are not always as you anticipate. It is my job as a forensic scientist to teach you what the physical evidence has to say that it cannot say for itself. I work as a disinterested party and take no sides in an issue. I purpose to teach you about my areas of interest with respect to your case and then proceed per our arrangement.

To estimate cost, figure about 1½ hours for each item you wish to have examined. For review of reports and notes, it depends on complexity and volume (around 5 hours is average). You have more control over court time than I, so figure this accordingly and do not forget travel and expenses.
